Catering to government groups looking for a secluded location for workshops and retreats, as well as to other groups offering educational courses that would benefit from a rustic setting.

“...the excellent service offered by this unique facility has been a major part of the success of our meetings...”
– Pat Hayes, Forest Protection Officer
Past Chair Lake Cowichan Combined Fire Organization

Ministry of Forests and Range Research Branch
Location

On scenic Cowichan Lake, a 90 minute drive north of Victoria.

Amenities

Fully-equipped meeting rooms, waterfront cabins and a bunkhouse, will cater to groups of up to 60 adults. The logging camp-style cookhouse is designated as a Forest Service Heritage Building, and has an excellent chef offering three full meals a day.

Cost

Please enquire for all costs. Partial day rates are available.

The Cowichan Lake Conference Centre has long been a favourite location for meetings, training and retreats. The old-fashioned cookhouse and cabins beside Lake Cowichan provide a relaxed atmosphere for conducting your meeting or training session.

Tours of the Research Station (beside the Conference Centre) can be arranged. Jogging and walking trails wind through the site.

There is a golf course in the area, the Village of Lake Cowichan close by, and the BC Forest Discovery Centre is a short drive away.
