Weather forecast	The weather forecast for today is for mainly sunny skies with the temperatures reaching low to mid 30°C. The winds are estimated to be southwest with gusts of 40 km/h. There is a chance of lightning and dry lightning. The upper ridge will persist until Friday with temperatures remaining in the 30s.
Fire behavior prediction	There will be potential for significant fire growth if there are new starts. Fires will be surface fires but starts in continuous grass fuels will potentially grow to 20 ha in 30 minutes during peak burning periods. Heads up for any hot spots near the fires perimeter.
Challenges	With the drying trend and higher temperature there is increased fore behaviour. This fire is located in an area where there are heavy fuels and closed canopies that can be challenging if there are flare ups. Steep terrain is also an issue and burning debris has been rolling over containment lines.
Yesterday's achievements	The machine guard is almost complete and the crews are working towards containment.
Today's objectives	Crews continue to build guard to decrease the possibility of this wildfire jumping into the major drainage located west of this wildfire.
Other	An Area Restriction Order was put in place at 16:00 PDT on August 4, 2018 and remains in force until the earlier of 12:00 noon (PDT). The Order is for Crown land in the vicinity of Mabel Lake. The Order was put in place to address a public safety concern arising from the Mabel Creek Wildfire (K41813) and in order to avoid interference with fire control.
